Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 73 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 73, there is a double recitation of the helically wound wire.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 77 and 78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Green, et al.-5674231.

Green discloses a method of sealing a puncture including introducing a locator having a deflectable element 62 which buckles outwards upon expulsion out of an outer tubular member. The locator is maneuvered until it contacts a proximal wall of the vessel. Then a housing with a clip therein is advanced to clip closed the puncture wound and then the locator member is collapsed and the entire rest of the device is withdrawn. This method follows a performance of an angioplasty or angiography. The two handles with detents 74a would be markers which could indicate the clip or locator member being in the proper location.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 11-16,21-25,27-32,38-42,46-51,54-56,60-75,77 and 78 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Epstein, et al.-WO 00/06029 in view of Green-'231, or Ginn, et al.-6626918, or Ginn, et al.-6391048.

Epstein discloses the device and method as claimed (see previous office action) with the exception of the closure element being a clip instead of it being a fluid sealant. However, each of the other cited references disclose the use of clips to close vascular punctures, and the two Ginn references disclose that it was known to either supplement a clip closure with a sealant, or that a clip is a known alternative to the use of a sealant in closing vessel puncture wounds. It therefore would have been obvious to have either exchanged the closure sealant with a clip applying device as is taught by the cited teaching references, or to add a clip applying device in combination with the sealant, as this has been shown to be an effective alternative to sealant alone in the sealing of vessel puncture wounds. Member 41 is the claimed tether which contacts an outer surface of the helical wire 38. Epstein's device follows the puncturing of the vessel wall in the performance of vascular procedures such as angiography, angioplasty, atherectomy... etc.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to all of the pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
